THE BEHOLDER PROJECT

A Standalone Memoir

KOLKATA DIARIES

Fifteen Years,
a Masterpiece of Ruin

A song arrived softly one night in 2026 - and cut with smell. Fifteen years of yellow taxis, one evening signal, a marriage of quiet afternoons, Durga Puja nights, Gariahat bargains, a war with the mind, and a truce at nine. The man who stood at that signal tells it all - and does not give you time to cry.
A memoir in ten movements, scored to the songs that load the ammunition: Seger, Air Supply, Roxette, Tagore, Anupam Roy, Rupankar.

"The sad is so sharp
it cuts with smell."
